DETAILED ACTION

Requesting Continued Examination (RCE)

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the Requesting Continued Examination (RCE) field 13 January 2003.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1 and 15 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Re claim 1, lines 6-7: Substitute "each individual" with -- the -- because the phrase "each individual" introduces a plurality of containers.

Re claim 15, lines 10 and 11: Substitute "each individual" with -- the -- because the phrase "each individual" introduces a plurality of containers.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lephardt (US 4,836,378) in view of Rudszinat (US 4,077,289) and Bryant et al (US 5,190,428).

Re claims 15-22: Lephardt discloses a method of confining a commodity 34 in a composite container 12 having a plurality of constituents, comprising assembling the constituents into the composite container 12 around the commodity 34; processing information and encoding the information, which can be decoded without even partial opening of the assembled container 12; the container including an inner envelope directly surrounding the commodity 34; an outer envelope 14 surrounding the inner envelope; a tear strip 16 borne by the outermost envelope 14 (figs. 1 & 3; col. 3, line 7 through col. 4, line 28).

Lephardt fails to teach or fairly suggest the step of providing characteristic indicia, which is randomly selected and is processed into information.

Rudszinat teaches the above limitation with indicia being printed on label 3, which is detachable insert forming part of the inner envelope (col. 3, lines 4-9; col. 5, lines 23-40).

It would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Rudszinat into the teachings of Lephardt in order to provide Lephardt with a simpler and more feasible system, wherein the characteristic indicia is easier to print (i.e., does not require special ink - e.g., jet ink). Furthermore, such modification would have mere been a substitution of equivalents well within the ordinary skill in the art, and therefore an obvious expedient.

Art Unit: 2876

Lephardt as modified by Rudszinat fails to teach or fairly suggest means for conveying successive commodities of the series along a predetermined path.

Bryant et al teaches the above limitation with commodities being conveyed by conveyor path 12 (figs. 1 & 2; col. 6, lines 1-15).

It would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Bryant et al into the teachings of Lephardt/Rudszinat in order to provide Lephardt/Rudszinat with a more feasible system (i.e., reducing the requirements of laborers). Furthermore, such modification would provide Lephardt/Rudszinat with a faster and productive system. Accordingly, such modification would have been an obvious extension as taught by Lephardt/Rudszinat, well within the ordinary skill in the art, and therefore an obvious expedient.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-14 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the objection(s) set forth in this Office action.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of records to Lephardt, Rudszinat, Bryant et al and all other cited references, taken alone or in combination, fails to teach or fairly suggest the specific method of confining a commodity in a composite container having a plurality of constituents comprising, among other steps, providing at least some of the constituents with characteristics indicia and processing the characteristic indicia into information which is characteristic of the composite container as set forth in the claims.

Art Unit: 2876

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The patents to Moore (US 6,456,729); Moore (US 6,246,778); Hein et al (US 5,542,529); Powell et al (US 5,427,235); Simard (US 4,746,012); Sibley Jr. (US 4,677,552) and Whitney (US 4,365,148) are cited as of interest and illustrate a similar structure to a method of and apparatus for making composite containers with identifying indicia.
